Our location

Stirling Court Hotel enjoys an impressive location on the campus of the University of Stirling. Set on 330 acres of stunning grounds, our accommodation and wedding venue boasts the striking backdrop of the Ochil Hills and the majestic Wallace Monument.

Closer still, at the heart of our idyllic campus sits Airthrey Loch, overlooked by its 18th century namesake, Airthrey Castle – two picture-perfect additions to the landscape and yours to enjoy when you book your wedding with us.

The loch and its banks are part of the original castle estate, and home to an abundance of wildlife.

Our Team

When you book with us, you will be given your own Wedding Co-ordinator who is an expert in delivering the perfect wedding day. They will give you advice and ideas, listen to your concerns and make sure your day goes exactly the way you want it to go.

“ Had my wedding here and my Wedding Co-ordinator was so attentive from the start and always emailing straight back. Our Master of Ceremonies took care of the day and she was absolutely fantastic, I could not have asked for anything better. The day went so smoothly with no problems at all, and she was always there asking how I was. She really made me feel so special and nothing was a problem. ”
